

From Strangers to Collaborators:

EVALUATING THE PROCESS OF TRANSFORMATIVE PHENOMENOLOGY AND CONTEMPLATIVE RESEARCH ACROSS CULTURES

An Invitation to Join an International Research Project:

The participatory action research project is a multi-national, and multi-institutional study that includes Fielding Graduate University, the University of Łódź, and the University of the Virgin Islands. The focus of the research will be on the phenomenon of being a “stranger” while building collaboration across cultures. The core participants will include doctoral and master’s students and colleagues from all three universities. All other interested people are invited to participate.

Weekly Seminars: March 5 to May 10, 2019

Experience phenomenological writing and the foundation of somatics, phenomenology and communicative leadership in raising consciousness for social and ecological justice. Classes will be held on Friday at 3:00 PM in Room D. 311 of the Faculty of Economy and Sociology, University of Łódź, Poland. (Wydział Ekonomiczno-Socjologiczny UŁul. POW 3/5, 90-255 Łódź).

Somatics Workshop & Research Symposium: May 13 to May 17, 2019

Faculty of Economy and Sociology, University of Łódź, Poland.

Experience an intensive somatics workshop and research symposium. Understand the foundations of somatics, phenomenology and communicative leadership in raising consciousness for social and ecological justice.

Contact: Professor Valerie Bentz - vbentz@fielding.edu

Professor Krzysztof Konecki - krzysztof.konecki@uni.lodz.pl

James Marlatt Ph.D., Research Coordinator - jmarlatt@email.fielding.edu

<https://transformative-phenomenology-and-us.home.blog/from-strangers-to-collaborators/>